How to Make the Most of Critical Thinking Skills in Your Classroom

Believed by many to be one of the most significant strategies for raising academic standards, Critical Thinking Skills are so much more than simply being able to dismantle and evaluate the arguments of others. CTS are pivotal to the development of students' ability to evaluate, reason and explain in all aspects of communication.

Delegates will:

- Engage with simple and complex arguments and examine the role of truth, facts and judgements
- Learn how to apply CTS to build strong arguments
- Be provided with structures and a framework to support their students in their endeavours to improve Critical Thinking
- Cover a range of subject areas in exemplar work

COURSE TRAINER

Alan Jervis

Alan Jervis has nearly 30 years' teaching experience and has spent the last decade developing and cementing his reputation as one of the UK's leading teacher trainers. His teaching career included many years as Assistant Headteacher with direct responsibility for teaching, learning and assessment. His extensive experience of devising and deploying innovative and effective teaching and learning strategies have met with huge success, as have his methods of raising achievement in schools. The phenomenal improvements in the GCSE and A Level results within his remit have been replicated by countless numbers of the thousands of teachers who have attended Alan's training courses – the outstanding feedback that we receive from his delegates consistently praise his enjoyable, hands-on approach that is underpinned by clear, workable solutions and strategies.
