Developing Emotional Intelligence

COURSE INFORMATION:

- Emotional Intelligence learning is a key solution to the problem of teachers being overwhelmed and over-extended. Students will start asking real questions, which means they are thinking more deeply about their learning. E.I. provides an opportunity to add richness, depth and a real heart to the classroom.
- Daniel Goleman set the ball rolling with his theories on EI. These ideas have moved into overdrive and have led to huge improvements in the teaching and learning of students of all ages and all abilities.
- On this course Alan will provide a toolkit of Emotional Intelligence activities that can be adapted by teachers to fit their way of teaching.
- Alan's approach is 100% practical - delegates will review a wide of range E.I. techniques and be given the opportunity to assess which best fit their way of teaching.

COURSE TRAINER

Alan Jervis

Alan Jervis has nearly 30 years' teaching experience and has spent the last decade developing and cementing his reputation as one of the UK's leading teacher trainers. His teaching career included many years as Assistant Headteacher with direct responsibility for teaching, learning and assessment. His extensive experience of devising and deploying innovative and effective teaching and learning strategies have met with huge success, as have his methods of raising achievement in schools. The phenomenal improvements in the GCSE and A Level results within his remit have been replicated by countless numbers of the thousands of teachers who have attended Alan's training courses – the outstanding feedback that we receive from his delegates consistently praise his enjoyable, hands-on approach that is underpinned by clear, workable solutions and strategies.
